

TWENTY PAGES

WASHINGTON, D. C., AUGUST 20, 1950

Service Set Activities Are Varied

Vacation Visitors
And Late Summer
Trips of Interest

By Evelyn M. Dent

The Assistant Surgeon General of the Navy and Chief of the Navy Dental Corps, Admiral Spry O. Claytor, and Mrs. Claytor will be among the guests on Tuesday at a reception co-hosted by Comdr. and Mrs. William D. King and Dr. and Mrs. John C. Swearingen at the Medical Center Officers Club.

Admiral and Mrs. Clements Rault and Rear Admiral and Mrs. Alfred W. Chandler also have accepted. Others in this 6 to 8 o'clock gathering of more than one hundred and fifty members of the United States Dental Corps and residential society will be Capt. and Mrs. Louis D. Mitchell, Jr., Capt. and Mrs. A. H. Grunewald and Capt. and Mrs. Robert P. Irons.

Mrs. Spencer Ball Akin, wife of the Chief Signal Officer, Maj. Gen. Akin, left yesterday for their summer home at Kill Devil Hill, Nags Head, N. C. Mrs. Akin came to town on Thursday for a flying visit and will not return again until after Labor Day. Gen. Akin will join the family for week ends whenever duty permits.

Mrs. Kirk B. Lawton, wife of Maj. Gen. Lawton, Deputy Chief Signal Officer, is spending August and September at the Forrest Hills Hotel, Franconia, N. H. She will be at home after October 1.

Arrive in Capital
Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Wesley T. Guest welcomed their daughter, Miss Sally Ann Guest, home from Virginia this week end. Miss Guest will leave for Fairfax Hall, Waynesboro, Va., come September.

Capt. and Mrs. Richard F. J. Johnson, Jr., have as their houseguests Capt. and Mrs. William G. Fisher of Annapolis. Capt. Fisher reports to the National War College for duty.

Col. Donald Hardy arrived in town on Tuesday after a three-year tour of duty in Stockholm, Sweden, where he was air attaché at the United States Embassy. Mrs. Hardy and their children, Donald, Jr., and Helene, accompanied him. The family is at the moment domiciled in the home of close friends on Woodland drive where they will stay until October 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Palmer of Philadelphia, Pa., parents of Mrs. Hardy, returned to their home yesterday. They were here to greet the travelers and to see their grandchildren for the first time in three years.

Lt. Col. and Mrs. William Starr have arrived here from Sycamore, Ill., and are making their home temporarily at the Francis Scott Key. Col. Starr has been assigned here in the Office of the Signal Corps.

Luncheon Given

Col. and Mrs. William L. Bayer have as their house guest Mrs. David Gillie of New York, who arrived Monday to spend two weeks with her daughter and son-in-law. Mrs. Bayer gave a luncheon on Thursday at Normandy Farms in honor of her mother. Among the guests were Mrs. William Rumbough, wife of Maj. Gen. Rumbough; Mrs. Francis Ankenbrandt, wife of Gen. Ankenbrandt; Mrs. Raymond C. Maude, wife of Gen. Maude; Mrs. William Pence and Mrs. William Pence, Jr.; Mrs. Charles Stodter, Mrs. William P. Corderman, who with Col. Corderman recently returned from Anchorage, Alaska; Mrs. Donald Hardy, Mrs. Richard F. V. Johnson, Jr., Mrs. Helen Atkins, Mrs. Paul Grier, Mrs. George Bicher, Mrs. Louis Palmer of Philadelphia, Mrs. Samuel Ewing, who arrived that morning from the Presidio, and Miss Catherine Schaefer of New York City, who is Mrs. Bayer's aunt and also a house guest.

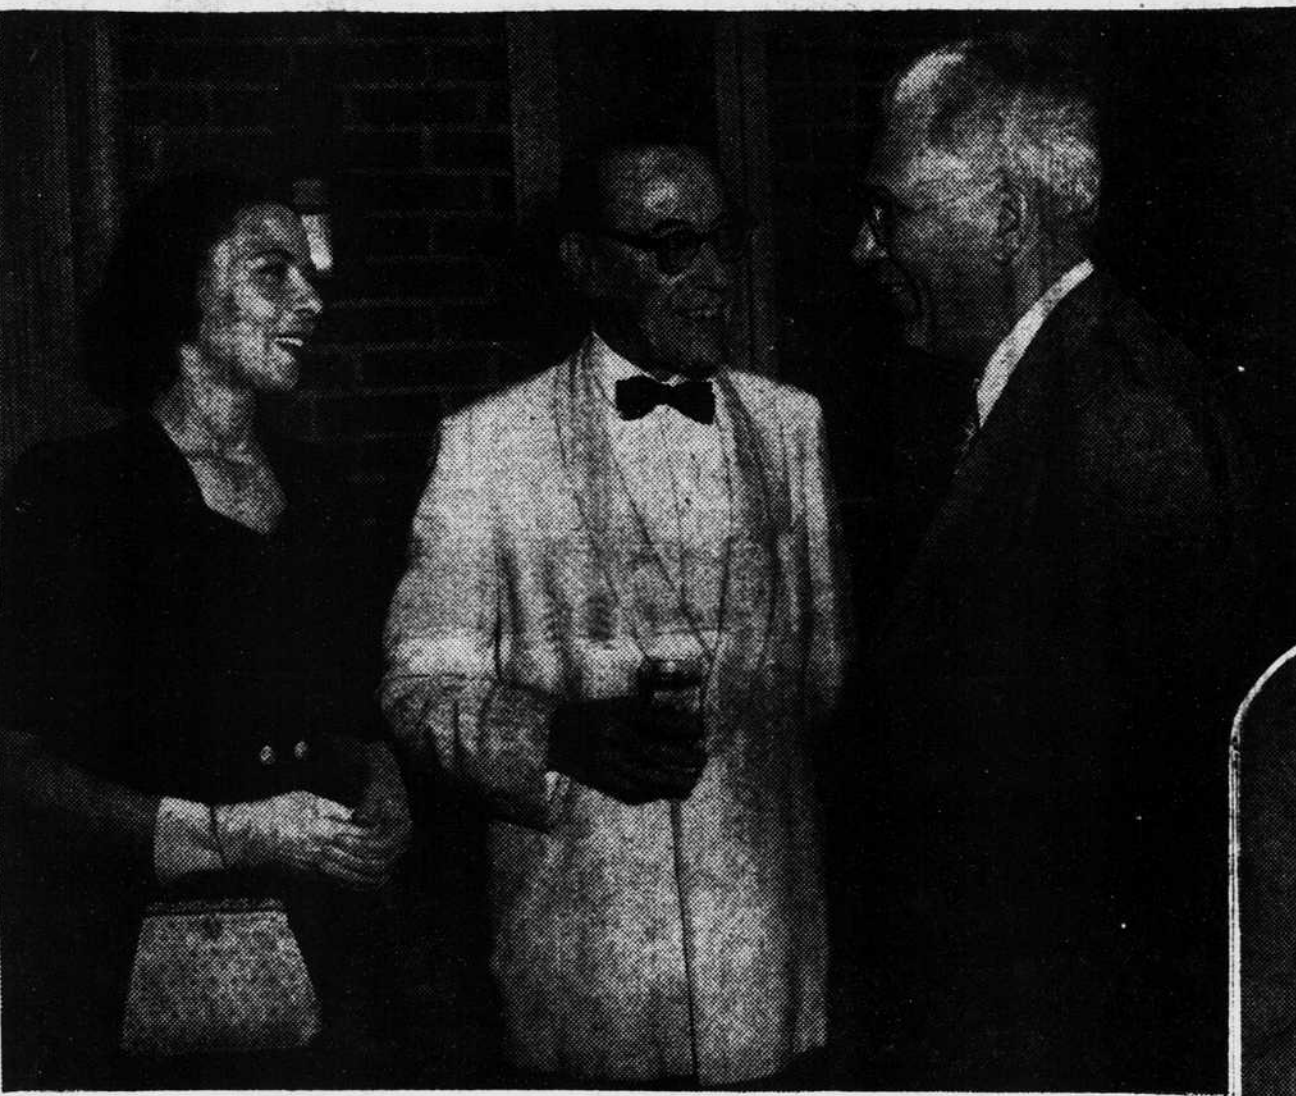

Mrs. A. N. Niemi, wife of Col. Niemi of the office of the Signal Corps, gave a small luncheon Wednesday at the Officer's Club, Fort McNair, in honor of Mrs.

(See SERVICE SET, Page D-2.)

GUESTS ENJOY GARDEN AT PAKISTAN RECEPTION.

One of the most popular spots with the guests attending the Independence Day celebration at the Pakistan Embassy the other evening was the attractive and colorful garden. Small tables and chairs were put up in the garden for the guests to use. One of the groups, pictured here, that got together for a little conversation and food were, left to right, Mrs. Mike Mansfield, Postmaster General Jesse Donaldson, Mrs. Donaldson, Dr. Abul H. K. Sassani, who is with the Department of Education, and Representative Mansfield of Montana.

THREE-CORNERED CONVERSATION AT EMBASSY FETE.

Senora de Boettner and her husband, Paraguayan Ambassador Luis Oscar Boettner, center, stopped to chat with Senator Homer Ferguson on the terrace at the reception given at the Embassy of the Dominican Republic this week. This party also was an Independence Day celebration and at the same time it marked the anniversary of the inauguration of Dominican President Rafael L. Trujillo.

Socialites in Church Weddings

Capital socialites turned out in large numbers for the reception at Anderson House yesterday afternoon that followed the wedding in historic St. John's Church on Lafayette Square of Mrs. Gallia Fein-Fedorinich Painter and Lt. Col. Albert Lyman Cox, Jr. The bride is the daughter of Baron and Baroness Ignaty A. Fein-Fedorinich. Her father escorted her and gave her in marriage and Mrs. Cornelius V. Starr was her only attendant. Comdr.

William Ruffin Cox of Charleston was his brother's best man.

The Rev. Francis A. Cox, uncle of the bridegroom and rector of Fox Chapel Episcopal Church in Pittsburgh, officiated at the 5 o'clock ceremony, for which the bride wore a simply fashioned gown of champagne color satin, the front of the skirt being a wide panel of handsome alencon lace.

Col. Cox is the son of Maj. Gen. Cox, retired, and Mrs. Cox, who on Friday evening were hosts at a small buffet supper in honor of the couple. Fellow officers in the Air Force who served as ushers at the wedding were Lt. Col. William Lively and Maj. Murray Borden, brothers-in-law of the bridegroom; Col. Harris Hull and Lt. Col. Ernest C. Hardin. Mr. James Sprunt of Wilmington, N. C., cousin of Col. Cox, and Comdr. William H. Hudgins also were ushers.

Col. Cox and his bride left last evening for England where he is to be the Air Force representative at the United Kingdom joint services college in Buckinghamshire, near Chesham. They will make their home in London. (Picture on Page D-3.)

Lyle-Nice

The Friends Meeting House was the scene of the wedding yesterday afternoon of Miss Carolyn Jean Nice and Mr. Robert S. Lyle, headmaster of the Sidwell Friends School. The ceremony followed the traditional Friends custom and Mr. James E. Forstner, a member of the Friends Meeting, read the certificate of marriage.

Overseers for the wedding, appointed by the Meeting, were Mr. and Mrs. J. Austin Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Kenworthy and Mrs. Gordon T. Bowler of Washington and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Houghton of Arlington.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Gail S. Nice of Cleveland and the late Mr. Nice. She is a graduate of Earlham College and received her Master's Degree from Wellesley College and for four years taught physical education at Sidwell Friends School.

Mr. Lyle is the son of the late Dr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Lyle of Union Springs, N. Y. He was graduated from Mercersburg Academy and Dartmouth College and received his Master's Degree from Cornell University. During the war, Mr. Lyle served with the Naval Air Intelligence.

When they return from a trip to Bermuda the couple will live in Alexandria.

Miss Clifford Will Marry

An engagement announcement that will be of interest to members of both social and official circles in Washington is that of Mr. and Mrs. Clark MacAdams Clifford of their daughter, Margery Pepperell, to Lt. William Henry Lanagan, Jr., U. S. M. C. The wedding will take place in December.

Miss Clifford is attending George Washington University and is studying singing with Mme. Marian Freschl in Philadelphia. She made her debut this past June at her parents' home at 8551 Rockville pike, Bethesda.

Lt. Lanagan, son of the late Col. William Henry Lanagan U. S. A., and Mrs. Lanagan of San Francisco, attended the University of California and Purdue University. For the past three years he has been an aide at the White House.

The wedding will take place this fall.

(Glogau Photo.)

MISS MARGERY PEPPERELL CLIFFORD.

(Glogau Photo.)

TWO DIPLOMATIC COUPLES RELAX IN DRAWING ROOM AFTER PARTY.

It was a strenuous day Monday for the Pakistan Ambassador and Mrs. Ispahani when they were hosts at the reception celebrating their national holiday. They had to shake hands with over 500 people and the chance to relax in the drawing room was a welcomed one. Mrs. Ispahani, left, talks to Mme. Tarchiani as Italian Ambassador Tarchiani and Ambassador Ispahani, right, look on. The latter is standing before a portrait of Quaid-i-Azam Mohammed Ali Jinnah, first Governor General and founder of Pakistan, who died in 1948.

INDEPENDENCE DAY HOSTS POSE WITH TWO OF THEIR GUESTS.

The Ambassador of the Dominican Republic and Senora de Thomen, left, are pictured during the reception hours of their party Wednesday with the Secretary of the Senate and Mrs. Leslie Biddle. Favorites with most every one that knows them, the Thomens' guests are always reluctant to leave. The garden at the Dominican Embassy was very popular, too, and there most of the people could be found.

—Harris-Ewing Photos.

Christening Is Planned

Plans are being made for the christening of the first grandchild of the Chief of Staff and Mrs. J. Lawton Collins the latter part of next week. The infant, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome J. Stenger, Jr., was born August 15 at the Georgetown University Hospital.

The child will be named Marion Katherine and will have as her godmother her aunt, Miss Nancy Collins, and Mr. Georges R. Edelen will be godfather.

On Short Trip

Lt. Col. and Mrs. R. E. Kimball left yesterday to spend several days at the Caverns, Luray, Va.

Activities Along Capital's Embassy Row

By Ann Cline

Several parties are on this week's calendar for Greek Ambassador Dr. Athanasios Politis. He will be host at two stag luncheons, one tomorrow and one Wednesday. Guests of honor will be the Deputy Prime Minister of Greece, Mr. George Papandreou, and the Minister of Economics, Co-ordination and Reconstruction, Mr. Emanuel Tsouderos. Both parties will be given at the Embassy.

Mme. Tsouderos accompanied her husband and Mr. Papandreou on their visit to the United States and while in Washington, all three are staying at the Wardman Park Hotel.

There's still a lot of traveling in the Diplomatic Corps. The Turkish Ambassador, Mr. Feridun C. Erkin, returned to Washington on Tuesday from Turkey, where he has been since the latter part of June on a combination vacation and business trip. Mme. Erkin is still abroad, visiting in Italy. But she soon will leave for Paris and from there is expected back in Washington around the middle of September.

The Cuban Ambassador, Mr. Luis Machado, left Friday for Cuba, where he will be until the end of the month. He will be back in the capital for a few days before going on to Paris.

A party coming up this week is the reception Friday celebrating Brazilian Army Day. The Brazilian Military Attache and Mme. Amaral will be hosts at the 6:30 to 8:30 o'clock fete, which will be held at the Army Navy Town Club.

A new addition to the diplomatic group is Senora de Chocano, who arrived in this city several days ago with her two children. She is the wife of the Counselor of the Guatemalan Embassy, Senor Alfredo Chocano, who recently took over his post.

Another new addition is Mr. Yehuda Harry Levin, who has assumed his duties as Press Counselor of the Embassy of Israel. Mr. Levin's first foreign service post was Consul General to Australia and New Zealand. He left there in July for Washington to take up his present post. He was accompanied by his wife, Ruth, a painter.